Lesson 3 » Regional Environmental Problems

Colombia is the second most biodiverse country in the world, after Brazil. This is because of the variety of different ecosystems like tropical forests, mountain habitats, grasslands, páramos, and deserts. Amphibians, birds and plants are just some of the species that make up a large part of Colombia's biodiversity. In fact, Colombia is known for having more bird species than any other country, with more than 1900 species.

Now for the sad news; Colombia is facing a major ecological problem because of illegal logging, the agricultural industry, the mining industry, cocaine production and the development of hydro-electricity energy resources. Deforestation costs the country 2,000 km of forest each year and this figure is rising. The areas with the highest deforestation rates include Caquetá in the Amazon region and Antioquia in the Andes mountains, while there have been major rises in deforestation in Putumayo and Norte de Santander in the past few years.

Deforestation has many negative effects on the environment, including habitat loss, a decrease in biodiversity, the extinction of animal and plant species, soil erosion, air pollution. There are many others, too. Today, almost one-third of Colombia's original forest has been destroyed by deforestation, so as you can imagine, this is a serious problem and urgent action is required. It is a problem that affects us all, so please, educate yourselves and take action now. Who knows, tomorrow might be too late!

1. Read the article and complete the table. Write full sentences.

Yours sincerely,

Calle 45 No. 25-16
Bogotá
- (D) We would like you to ask the company to pay for the clean-up of our ocean and do everything in its power to save the marine wildlife, especially the leatherback sea turtle. - (E) Mr Roberto Vega
Minister of Environment
Calle 26 No. 11-21
Bogotá
- (F) Yours sincerely,
Marcela Gonzalez
Environmental Activist
Oceans For All
- (G) As you know, an international petroleum company, as a result of negligence, spilt 45 gallons of oil into our ocean last week, and nothing has been done to clean it up. These spills damage the environment and kill thousands of marine animals and plants. The oil can take years to disappear from our oceans. We are very concerned about the effect this will have on the leatherback sea turtle which is critically endangered.
- (H) 27 March 2017
- (I) In conclusion, we strongly believe that it is time to take immediate action. We should force companies to clean up and stop them from continuing to drill for oil off the Colombian coast.

¹ How It All Started

I remember my first diet; I was 12 years old. I wasn't obese, but I thought I was. I wanted to be like the thin celebrities in the magazines. In one week I lost 3 kilograms, but my parents got angry, so I started to eat again. This made me feel really guilty.

That's how it began. I was on and off a diet all the time. When I wasn't dieting I felt guilty because I would binge-eat. But, soon I found the answer: vomiting! In front of family and friends I would eat so much food that it was uncomfortable, then I would quietly go to the toilet and vomit.

² _____

At first I felt happy. "I have found the answer!" I thought. No one suspected that I was dieting. But soon it was out of control. I started to feel very lonely and I became more and more unsociable. The depression was confusing. To feel better I started to binge-eat more and then vomit more; it was a horrible cycle of binge-eating, vomiting, feeling guilty and then depressed, over and over again.

³ _____

This was my life for nearly 15 years. When I was 27 I took the first step towards recovery. I attended a course that talked about the psychological and physical effects of dieting. It felt like the course was designed for me! The idea of not dieting was really scary. I always thought, "If I don't diet, I will constantly binge-eat, and if I constantly binge-eat, I will become really obese". The course helped me understand that this isn't correct. So, I found a therapist who helped me work on my self-esteem. I learned to be nicer to myself and discovered that binge-eating allowed me to avoid confronting uncomfortable emotions. I also attended group therapy which was wonderful. It was really helpful to talk with other people who had similar experiences to mine.

⁴ _____

Today I love eating, and I don't feel guilty. I enjoy the flavours and social interaction of eating in restaurants and cooking for friends and family. I am lucky to have recovered from this disease. It wouldn't have been possible without the help and support that I received from family, friends and therapists.

guilty: feeling you have done something wrong

lonely: feeling sad from not being with other people

self-esteem: feeling of respect for yourself

Lesson 3 » Do You Know About Nutrition?

The Most Important Meal Of The Day!

A healthy breakfast has been proven to have many health benefits. Eating breakfast in the morning gives our bodies the energy it needs to get through a busy day. Skipping breakfast is like trying to start your car in the morning without petrol!

Nutritionists all agree; breakfast really is the most important meal of the day! Research shows that students who eat a healthy breakfast do better at school. They are happier and they have more energy. In addition to giving us instant energy, it also provides us with important nutrients and vitamins that our bodies need to function well in the day.

So, what is a healthy breakfast? According to nutritionists, a healthy breakfast should include at least one ingredient from each of the following groups of food groups: fruits and vegetables, protein and carbohydrates. Foods like oatmeal, brown rice and wholegrain bread give your body carbohydrates it needs to make energy. Tomatoes, avocado, oranges and other fruits and vegetables give your body different vitamins. You can get protein from milk, yoghurt, eggs, nuts and other foods like meat. Eating something in all three food groups will help you kick-start your day.

In summary, a healthy breakfast equals a healthy body and healthy mind. For increased energy, concentration, and happiness, eat a healthy breakfast.

Lesson 3 » Things that Money Can't Buy

Dictionary
sceptical: to have doubt about something.

1. Read the brochure promoting experiences and complete the sentences.

Buying Experiences Vs. Buying Things

Do you ever think, 'If I save my money I will be able to buy a new iPhone', or 'If I buy a new car I will be so happy'? Sure, having a new car, fashionable clothes or the latest technology all sounds great, but can these material items really bring you the happiness you deserve?

From a young age, we learn to like having new things. If our friend has a new games console, we want a new games console. If our neighbour has a swimming pool in their house, we want a swimming pool too. The idea that buying and consuming makes us happy is an illusion. Recent research has shown if people spend their money on experiences, they will be happier and more satisfied with their lives. Experiences might be travelling to new places, eating at a new restaurant, trying a new sport or simply going for a walk in the mountains or along the beach.

Still sceptical? Below are 5 reasons why people who spend their money on experiences are happier than those who waste their money on material items.

1. Experiences give you unforgettable memories
2. Experiences teach you things.
3. Experiences offer exciting challenges.
4. Experiences open your mind.
5. Experiences are great value for money.

So, isn't it time to stop buying things and start buying experiences?

1. If you buy experiences, you will have unforgettable memories.
2. If you buy experiences, _____.
3. If you buy experiences, _____.
4. If you buy experiences, _____.
5. If you buy experiences, _____.

Jenny

Danny, I understand that you enjoy shopping for new things, but you need to understand your mother's point of view. Remember shopping can become very expensive if you buy popular products. You could get a job to earn some money to help you buy your favourite things.

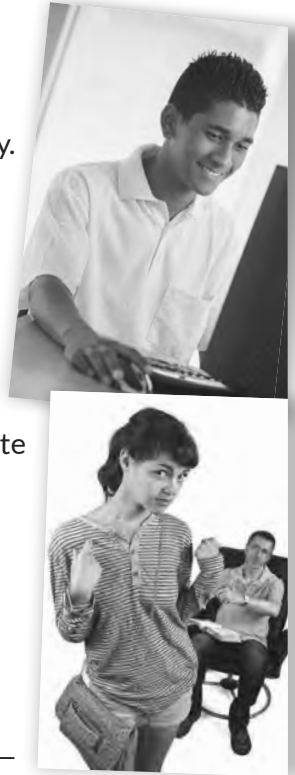

Angela

My dad is angry because I haven't finished my homework on time. Now he tells me I can't go to the dance concert on Saturday night! This isn't fair!

Chant

Be careful with your money

*Be careful, be cautious with your money,
'Cause when it runs out, it's not funny!
It might be liberating at the time,
Although you'll regret it
When you're left behind.*

I'm wearing my hoodie and I'm going into town.
I bought a selfie stick to take pictures all around.
I've foolishly spent my money on a tent,
Instead of wisely paying for my rent.
It is very cosy with a beanbag chair,
And there is also a telescope in there.

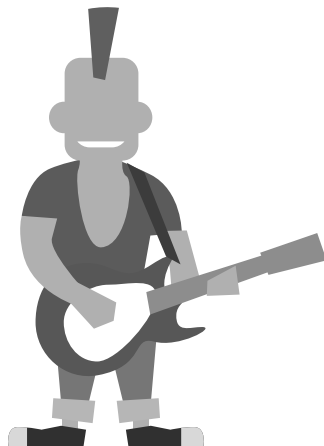

Be careful, be cautious with your money, ...

I use the internet cautiously;
I only chat to people who are nice to me.
I go to the gym to have a fun time,
Instead of spending all my time online.

I download music on my laptop,
And I use my headphones quite a lot.
I bought some sunglasses unnecessarily,
I don't need them but they look cool on me.

Be careful, be cautious with your money, ...
