Hi, I'm Ana, and I'm a student. I'm 14.

I am a fan of healthy lifestyles. I exercise, I rest, and I watch what I eat.

I try to have meals at the same place every day. Breakfast is at the kitchen table, lunch in the dining room, and dinner in the kitchen again. I am more disciplined than my sister, Ely. She only exercises once a week. She eats where and when she feels hungry. I think we are all different. I also exercise harder than Ely to keep fit, but that's OK because I love doing exercise. I eat at different times and I am trying to reduce my screen time because I am having problems sleeping at night. I think I am healthier than I was last year.

Are you healthier than you were last year?
